A PITCHER'S VICTORY.

The New Man Gave Only Eight Hits and One Run.

Well, they were "the real thing" yesterday, there's no denying that. They played ball like champions, and that pennant floated proudly from its staff as if in recognition of the fact. Every man on the team moved about in lively fashion, and was in the game at all times. At last there was life along the lines. Stewart coached in his old-time Sloux City manner. His voice was heard all through the game, and his bat, too, for he cracked out four doubles and a triple and gave Butler a chase for the only out he made. It was something like last season, and the faithful "fans" were in ecstasies over it. They have been more and they reveled in it. That's the sort of ball playing that wins pennants. Twenty hits, with a total of thirty-five bases off two Columbus pitchers, and not an error. There's a record to be proud of, and it does much toward squaring the bad showchampions invade the West with that sort of ball and they will come back very close to the top. They have struck their last year's gait. Let them keep it up.

There were two new and welcome faces on the team yesterday, Wiley Davis in the ox and Frank Shiebeck at third, and how these men did play ball. Davis gave the Both these men hit well, each getting a brace of safe ones. Davis will be the hardest hitting pitcher in the Western League. McCarthy and Hogan hit for home runs, and it was a festival all through. With the exception of the first inning the visitors played good ball in the face of the hitting. Hernon and Butler cut off n just three innings, and his success Gray, was hit even harder, but Loftus thought it was no use wasting another cher on a lost cause. The fielding feature of the entire game was Motz's catch of McCormack's short fly to right field in the fourth. It was a fine piece of work. There were no holes in the infield yesterday. Ever, body was in motion as soon as the ball was hit, and the result was some very pre'ty playing. Wood went into left field in the eighth, as McCarthy was not feeling well, and distinguished himself by a fine catch of a low line fly from Wheelock's bat, which he picked almost off the ground. It first inning. To start with, McGreevy sent Hogriever to base on balls, and George stole second, aided by Wheelock's muff of Wilson's good throw to head him off. Roat flew to Hernon. McCartny hit to McCormack, who threw wild to first, Hogriever scoring. Cantillon tried to block Mac, who mixed matters up with him, and they both tired the side. With four runs to the good, Wiley Davis loomed up big and formidable in the box and began shotting them over for the Buckeyes to sample. Butler fiew to Hodison could do was to fly to Hogriever, ding the inning. Campbell took Brownig's place in right and held up the big felgan bunted and beat it out in the day and Davis drove a two-bagger to a procession, headed by their band, playing a funeral march, and paraded the principal attracts. The feature of the game was a sensational catch of a line drive in left by Knepper, upon which a double was executed. The score: and Davis came in. McCarthy was out from third to first, but Stewart was again good for a two-bagger over 'n Hernon's territory and Roat trotted home. Motz gave Butler a chase for a long fly and the scor-ing stopped for a few moments. Buckley and Shiebeck cracked out singles in the third and Davis placed another safe one in right, scoring Buckley. The side was then retired on files. McCarthy's base on balls, Stewart's three-bagger to right center and Buckley.

McCarthy electrified the crowd with a ne-run hit to the center-field fence in the sixth. It was pleasant to watch that pair of sprinters, Hernon and Butler, hustling after the ball, while Mac made the circuit. He was home before the ball reached second base. Though Shiebeck and Hogan got singles in the seventh, with nobody out, a double play on Davis's grounder followed and Hogriever flew to Hernon. With one out, and Hogriever flew to Hernon. With one out, McCarthy hit straight to center for a single in the eighth and Stewart's two-bagger to left sent him to third. Mote hit into Cantillon's hands. Stewart played away up the line and drew a throw to second. McCarthy started home and Sharpe threw to Wilson, Stewart reaching third, Mac dedged along the line and worried them so that McCormack and Sharpe became rattled and there was nobody at third to receive Wilson's final throw. The ball rolled out into left and both runners came home. The crowd enjoyed this greatly, It was a funny sight, but the Columbus players failed to appreciate it. McCormack should have been on hard for Wilson's throw, but he evidently thought Sharpe was going to take it and away went the ball.

With one out in the ninth, Hogan hit to left center for four bases, though it took all of Marry's sprinting powers to beat the ball of Marty's sprinting powers to beat the ball to the plate. Davis got a base on balls, Hogriever a two-bagger to left and Roat a single in the same direction. This hitting, with Bob Wood's long fly to Butler, who made a fine catch of it, added two more runs. Stewart followed with his fourth two-bagger over Hernon's head.

Cantillon.

That one lonesome-looking Columbus run was earned in the second. Wheelock got a base on balls and McCormack a single to right. McGreevy flew to McCarthy. Butler hit to Davis, and Wheelock was forced out at third. Cantillon, in trying to dodge a ball, made a safe hit, the first of the kind ever seen on the grounds. As he ducked the ball struck his bat and fell just beyond Roat. Sharpe got a single to left, but was caught at second trying to stretch it into a double. at second trying to stretch it into a double.

McCormack scored on the hit, however, and saved a shut-out. There were 2,000 people at the park, and they all felt as if they had the right sort of a ball team, after all.

A COLLEGE SLAUGHTER

I. U. Sluggers Defeat DePauw by

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 9.-This has and by their hated rivals of the State University at that. Desperate contests between DePauw and Indiana University are sure not alone been in baseball, but in debate, oratory and college politics. The interest therefore, in to-day's contest was heightened by what has gone before. At 11 o'clock this morning a special train of seven cars gaily cipal streets and openly proclaimed that they had come to see their team take a long-McKeen's Park was filled to overflowing early in the afternoon. The I. U. yell was heard in nearly as great a volume as that of DePauw, and these yells went back and forth over and across the field as the varying plays favored either side. DePauw prebeen mostly won on heavy batting, but the DePauw fellows felt confident that the good pitching of Pulse would hold the neavy hit-ters in check. I. U. presented Daly and Harris in the points. There were a thou-sand people on the field when play was called at 3 o'clock, with the following play-I. U.-Sherldan, shortstop; Harris, catcher (captain); Pitcher, third base; Schaller, second base; Moore, first base; Downey, center field; Knepper, left field; Widney, right field;

DePauw-Castleman, left field; Haskell running on to second before the ball could be fielded. The manager wishes to make dates mes at home and abroad. The first contest will be Tuesday with the Terre Haute boys. Then comes Frankfort, Depauw University and Anderson. He wishes to schedule a week's trip through the gas belt. Correspondence wanted with all good semi-professional clubs.

High School Team in Trim. The Indianapolis High School team is having an unusually successful season. They are captained by R. Newhall, who plays second, and O. M. Mothershead is their shortstop and manager. The team has won five games and lost two, the two defeats being largely due to the absence of Reinhart, their crack pitcher, who is also one of the heaviest hitters on the team. The team's victory over Butler is a notable one, as it is the first time in the annals of the High School that a High School baseball team defeated Butler on the diamond.

ATHLETIC CONTESTS.

Cornell Students Outclassed by Representatives of Pennsylvania. ITHACA, N. Y., May 9.-The third annual championship games between the athletic teams of Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania were held this afternoon on Percy field. The result was a victory for Pennsylvania, although Cornell's showing was better than ever before against the Quakers. In sprinting Cornell was more than a match for Pennsylvania, but the latter outclassed the Ithacans in all field events and biing. The Cornell records were broken, that for the 220-yard dash being lowered by one-fifth second and that for the 220-yard hurdle by three-fifths of a second. Cornell was disappointed in the bicycle events, as it was expected that Alexander, late of Le-land Stanford University, would have it all his own way. Pennsylvania made 73 points and Cernell 53. Negotiations are pending be tween Cornell and the University of Michi gan for a joint meeting.

National Circuit Bicycle Meet. SAN JOSE, Cal., May 9.-The National Circuit bicycle meet, under the auspices of the Garden City Club, brought together about 8,000 people this afternoon and a larger gathering of noted riders than had ever before appeared at a bicycle meet. The weather was pleasant and the number of starters was large. The first event was the one mile novice

That "chump" playing by Columbus in the eighth created a lot of amusement among the crowd. Even Bill Wilson was compelled to smile as he donned his mask. He did his part all right. McCormack is the lad who lost his head. Cantillon is a dirty ball player. He resorts to all sorts of questionable tricks to block runners at first. The crowd howled its ap-proval yesterday when McCarthy jumped on him in the first inning and rolled him over and over in the field. There is only one way to deal with players of the Can-

Shiebeck hasn't played third since 1888.

He is a fine all-around player, but has been at short for years. He can play the bag all right, however. Yesterday was his first game this season. He told Watkins he would prove a mascot, as when he joined Washington last season the Senators won eleven straight games—a good many for eleven straight games—a good many for them just then. He can play any place in the field, and as soon as he gets worked in and thoroughly seasoned will be very fast on the bases.

Stewart, the second baseman for the In-dianapolis team, is a star of the first mag-nitude in baseball circles. He is good enough for the big league right now, and will probably break in there before long. Time after time yesterday he pulled down base hits, going up in the air after them and firing them over to first base or where they were most needed before he returned to earth. He is by far the best man in the position seen here this year, and, in the opinion of more than one good judge who saw his work yesterday, is as good as Uncle Anson's Truby, or many others of the big league men on the second bag.—Co-

Grand Rapids will not get second baseman Connors after all, President Johnson to the contrary notwithstanding. President Young has ruled that Pittsburg's transfer to Minneapolis is perfectly legal, and must stand, and that Grand Rapids has no right to the man, and shall not have him. He says, furthermore, that if President Johnson does not like this the National League will withdraw its protection, and let him run his machine alone. Whereupon Bannie, old boy, subsided, and gave up the four flush he had been playing with. There are others who are more powerful than Johnson.—Columbus Press.

It has been a case thus far of Eastern clubs arrayed against each other and Western clubs likewise. After the present series the Eastern teams all go into the enemy's country, and then a comparison of the relative strength of the different divisions can be made. It must be taken into consideration, however, that the Westerners will be on their own battlefields, and the Eastern teams will do well to return with from one-half to one-third of the games to their credit. On May 25 the Indianapolis team arrives home, and will tackle the Western clubs, beginning with Milwaukee. Then the fight will be far enough along to keep the "fans" on edge all the time.
